PLEASE NOTE:

This template contains everything you will need to create compelling videos so that you can leverage its power to attract, qualify and convert new customers to your real estate business.

Utilizing Facebook Live or Instagram Live will get you the best reach and you also don't have to worry about editing your video. Facebook Lives looks best horizontal and Instagram works best with vertical video. See the Facebook Live Cheatsheet for more tips on that. You can also pre-record your video if you like until you feel more comfortable doing Lives.

Consider naming your video segment if you are going to do it on a consistent basis. It will then become recognizable by your followers and they can easily tell others to keep their eye out for it!

And then finally, once you are done, consider downloading a copy of your Live and upload it to YouTube to gain maximum exposure and leads.

Remember, be yourself! You don't have to get it perfect..... you just have to get it going!

As we all know, life can take stressful turns that require quick action on your part. This may even require the quick sale of your house. Such situations can include a sudden job transfer or divorce to mention only a few.

Regardless of the reason you have to sell quickly, the following tips should help you get the job done.

The number one thing involved in selling your house quick is the price. The price of your home should not be what you personally think it is worth.

Buyers simply don't care about such things. To sell your house quick, you have to find a price that is attractive to buyers. The best way to do this is to look for comparable houses in your neighbourhood that sold fast. Find out how much they sold for and compare your price to the prices the other houses went for.

If you are above those prices, you need to take a deep breath and lower your price. When it comes to pricing your house for a quick sale, the lower you are willing to go, the quicker your home will sell.

If you're forced into selling a house quickly because of a job transfer, you may be in luck. Many larger businesses have employee assistance plans in place wherein the company will actually purchase the house from you. The advantage of this situation is you are able to move the property quickly with a minimum of stress. The disadvantage is you may not be getting the best price for your house.

Finally, you need to consider whether selling your house under a high stress situation is really your best choice.

It may make far more sense to rent the house through a property manager while simultaneously taking a credit line to pay for your additional housing needs.

The viability of this solution is entirely dependent upon the reason you need to sell quickly, but is often a better choice than losing equity in a panic sale.

Call to action:

To sell your house quick, the number one issue is always price.

Still, you should be careful to avoid giving away you hard earned equity in a panic sale.

PROMOTE IT

Tell your fans that you will be going live ahead of time. This can be done easily and will boost your engagement. Send an email to your data base, make an announcement in a group(s) that could benefit from your live, run a facebook ad and post it on your social media channels.

WRITE A SCROLL STOPPING HEADLINE

Your description about your live by the far the most important piece of your video. Without enough ZING to entice your viewers, your live video isn't going to get much if any traction. When writing your copy, ensure it's direct, actionable, and informative. Focus on what your viewer will gain from tuning in.

SET THE TONE

Make sure that your backdrop is pleasant to look at, well lit, and beautifully styled. It's hard for people to pay attention when there are distractions or noise in the background. It may also be worth looking into purchasing an external microphone to improve sound.

CONNECT

I know this may sound obvious but please, please, please, make sure you have a strong signal before you go live. Nothing worse than planning for something and then not following through. Can you hear me now?! Lol..

CREATE A FEW PRACTICE VIDEOS

Before ripping the bandaid off and going live, you can test things out by creating a practice video restricted to your eyes only. You can do this by going to your own Facebook profile, and selecting "Only Me" before recording.

ASK YOUR VIEWERS TO INTERACT

Your audience will be thrilled to hear you mention their name and answer their questions when you are live. Posts with more likes, comments, shares, and views are also prioritized on the newsfeed. Facebook's algorithms recognize popular content, and actually make it even more popular without you needing to pay extra for more eyes.

HAVE AN ACTIONABLE SIGN OFF

The worst thing you can do is just casually push the finish button and then walk away. Instead, give a proper sign-off with an actual ending for next steps.

What do you want your viewers to do? Subscribe to your monthly newsletter? Visit your Facebook page for a fun contest? Want them to share the recording on their page? Whatever it may be, be sure to end your Facebook Live post with a call to action for your viewers to do.

REACH MORE PEOPLE AND GO LIVE OFTEN

By going live frequently you will keep your people engaged, grow brand awareness and build an audience fast! Here are some favourite examples:

- Hot topics or breaking news
- Go live with an industry leader such as a mortgage broker or home inspection
- Behind the scenes. People love seeing real estate in action. Hence, all the real estate related TV shows.
- Do a demo. Show people how easy it is to stage their home, or unbox the latest in home technology.

The topics are endless. With a little imagination, you will have lots of reasons to go live and get in front of your ideal client.

PROMOTE AFTER IT'S DONE

Once your video is done live streaming you can boost your post and run an ad campaign just like on your other Facebook videos and posts. Email it off to your database or if you write a blog you can use a transcription service such as Rev.com to have your live stream transcribed and voila, another blog post done. Upload up to 60 seconds of video in your Instagram feed as well. Now aren't you smart!
